COURSE INTRODUCTION

A Management System sets the goals and objectives, outlines the strategies and tactics, and develops the plans, schedules and necessary controls to run an organization. Since many Management Systems have been developed, companies basically have two choices: leave these to function as specific systems, or integrate them. An Integrated Management System (IMS) is 'the organizational structure, resources and procedures used to plan, monitor and control project quality, safety and environment'. IMS integrates ISO 14001, ISO 9001 and OHSAS 18001 into a combined management systems at an organizational level, as an excellent opportunity to improve business performance and consequently, to help them to achieve sustainability.

COURSE OBJECTIVE

After successful completion of the course, the participants would have:

- An in-depth understanding on the requirements of ISO 9001:2008, ISO 14001:2004 and OHSAS 18001:2007, and their correlation.
- An in-depth understanding on the Certification Bodies' requirements in internal audits on integrated systems;
- Developed skills in planning, organizing, conducting and reporting internal audits on Integrated Management Systems;
- Developed insights and skills in deriving the benefits and avoiding pitfalls of integrated audits;
- Achieved recognition by Certification Bodies as qualified internal auditors for ISO 9001:2008 QMS, ISO 14001:2004 EMS and OHSAS 18001:2007 OHSMS

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?
